

VOCATIONS

Every parish points with pride to the number of those young men and women who have answered the call to the religious life. All honor to them for accepting that call. We are grateful to God for giving it, and doubly grateful for the blessings they will bring upon the parish.

THE PIONEERS

One often hears the remark: "I am one of the pioneers of this parish," implying that they were listed as members when the parish was founded. It may be that being listed was their only claim to recognition, and so they would have no right to share in the distinction usually accorded to pioneers. As we look back to that first important year in the establishment of this parish, we can say in all truth that there were very few indeed who did not react to the thrill that comes to those who are asked to share the hardships, the sacrifices and the heart-and-head-aches that are always demanded of pioneers. All honor to the pioneers of St. Clement's parish! Without their help, their enthusiasm and their faith we could never have made the rapid strides that marked our progress and brought delegations from other parishes to ask for the secret of our success. So here are the men and women who can justly be called our pioneers, for they were listed as members when our beloved former Bishop Schrembs solemnly dedicated the Church on the first anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone—September 16, 1923.

This list is in truth an important item in our historical record. The names are listed according to streets where they lived in 1923. Many have since gone to their reward; many more have moved to other parishes. Those who are still with us will read this list and experience the thrill we get when "memory brings the light of other days around us."
