Adoration Chapel

Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

January 23, 2022

In the synagogue, Jesus stood up to read and was handed a scroll of the prophet Isaiah and found the passage where it was written. "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me because He has anointed me to bring glad tidings to the poor."

Luke 1: 1-4; 4: 14-21

We don't think we can measure up to the expectations of others - and we're not sure we want to. We struggle to make sense of our lives and to understand what we want to make of them. The words of the prophet Isaiah read by Jesus in today's Gospel are an image for us to hold on to - that we are grasped by the Spirit of God, that the Spirit of God leads us to the other side of doubt, that the Spirit of God enables us to see a life and world worth working for. Jesus realizes His identity in that Spirit; in our Baptisms, we find our identity in that Spirit, as well. It does not make things easier; it does not lighten the hard work of becoming the people God calls us to be, but the Spirit opens our hearts to the possibilities for creating God's kingdom in our midst: "glad tidings" for the poor, sight to the blind and light to the lost, justice for the oppressed, and a time of peace and fulfillment for all.
