FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

MAY 7, 2023

"In my Father's house there are many dwelling places...whoever believes in me will do the works that I do, and will do greater ones than these...." John 14: 1-12

On the night before He died, Jesus asks His disciples to take up "the work that I do" – the work of humble servanthood that places the hurts and pain of others before our own, the work of charity that does not measure the cost, the work of love that transcends limits and conditions. The "work" of God is not measured in effectiveness or efficiency; the hallmark of God's work is the compassion and love, the justice and healing that inspire and compel that work. The simplest act of kindness and charity, done in God's spirit of love, is to do the very work of Christ; the most hidden and unseen acts of kindness will be exalted by Christ in the kingdom of His Father. As Christians, we live in the eternal hope of one day living in God's dwelling place, but that "place" of hope and compassion and peace exists here and now in the places we make where the poor and sick are cared for, where the fallen are lifted up, where the lost and rejected are sought after and guided home. In taking on with joy and resolve the work of compassion and reconciliation the Risen One entrusts to us, we build God's house in our midst; we establish the reign of God in the here and now.

John 14: 1-3

Let not your hearts be troubled
Believe in God;
believe also in me

In my Father's house
are many rooms.

If it were not so..
would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you?
